Presbyterian Community Church is moving

Presbyterian Church foils attempt to halt move

PLEASANTON — Presbyterian Community Church got permission from the planning commission on a 4-1 vote to move its 100 year old church and social hall to Mirador Drive late Wednesday.

An eleventh hour attempt to halt the move was made by former Mayor Robert Pearson who suggested the city activate its historical overlay committee, which has the power to halt movement of the church, at least for a short period of time.

Pearson suggested that the historical society come up with a plan to buy the church so that the congregation could build a new building on Mirador Drive and the community still would have its church.

But a majority of the commission agreed with Commissioner Gregg Doherty who said that moving the church is in line with the plans first approved by the city in 1964 which calls for a church on the site.

The church congregation made its own decision about the fate of its church and the city really was in no position to deny the move, according to the commission majority.

Walt Wood, the lone vote against the move, said he opposed it because he thought the New England Protestant church design looked incompatible with the Spanish mission style buildings already on the church's site and with the suburban ranch style homes surrounding the site.

"I know I am going to lose some friends and gain some acquaintances," Wood said before his vote.

One congregation member, Lisa Pruett, thought that it was unfortunate that people talked about moving the building as though it were just another building.

"I grew up in that church. We love the building and that's why we are trying to move it. It's a church. People worship God there. People are concerned about the building, but not about the church. I'm really astounded," said Pruett.

If the whole community really has an interest in the church, why didn't it respond to the pitch for funds when the congregation wanted to put up a new building on Mirador Drive, she said.

Al Whittaker of Sharab Court, which abuts the church's Mirador Drive property, said the church building is also very much like a business use coming into the neighborhood. It will generate traffic and he and other neighbors were concerned about the proposal to exit one church driveway into their cul-de-sac court. The planning commissioners inserted a condition that this will not be done.

Dagmar Fulton, who at one time had been a long - time member of the Presbyterian Church, reported that a petition within and without the church amassed 233 names in support of keeping the church where it is. A director of the Livermore - Amador Valley Historical Society, she noted that group may be interstted in purchasing the church as a headquarters.

She said that many years ago, funds to build the structures came not just from Presbyterians, but Protestants of all sects so it truly should be considered a community - wide issue.

Fulton also stated dislike for the 20 foot lengthening of the sanctuary and social hall which will be done to accomodate the growing congregation.

New station to bring congestion?

PLEASANTON — Potential future traffic congestion is the main complaint that Ed Covey and other city gas station dealers have against the proposed Gas and Save self - service station proposed for Johnson Industrial Drive and Hopyard Road.

Covey, who leases a Mobil station across the street from the proposed gas station, said there are a total of 30 gas dispeners on the intersection now: his plus a Shell station on one corner and a company - owned Standard station on the other corner.

The new station would add another 24 dispensers and to Covey they are not needed.

Asked whether the station owners are banding together to keep out low - priced competition, Covey responded that the new station would definitely put an economic burden on other station owners, though they are not knocking the spirit of free enterprise.

Covey feels that existing Pleasanton stations are competitive economically, but one more station would dilute the market that much more. The city has an estimated 18,000 motor vehicles and 15 gas stations, providing a pretty low ratio of stations to vehicles, said Covery.

Why didn't the dealers oppose Gas and Save when it located on First Street and Ray Street?

"Nobody knew about the one on First Street. This time we found out in time," said Covey.

"The way they will put in the station will cause havoc the on the corner. The safety factor is important,'" he said. The corner in question is a dogleg formation of land formed by the curving Johnson Industrial Drive in front of Denny's Restaurant and Hopyard Road.

The corner was controversial before traffic lights were installed to ai- motorists getting on Hopyard Road from Johnson Drive. The intersection is also close to the I - 580 offramp.

Burglars hit Mortuary but get just $5

PLEASANTON — Not even the dead are sacred.

Two would-be burglars broke into the Graham - Hitch Mortuary early Thursday morning.

Their catch: $5 from the wallet of the in-resident caretaker and gasoline from the mortuary's funeral coach and the caretaker's car.

The caretakers woke up when they thought they heard someone trying to enter Pleasanton's statley old funeral parlor.

Their search was futile — until they returned to their apartment at the rear of the premises.

They scared the prowlers, and, probably, vice-versa.

"There would have been nothing that they could have stolen." director Charles S. Wetmore. "There's nothing of value; certainly no cash."

It's the third incident this year, he said, piled on top of an earlier burglary that netted valuable coins and personal items of former owner Ralph N. Hitch.

"That's why we don't keep anything of value on the premises," said Wetmore, "and have live-in caretakers. Someone's always here."

Vandals twice this past year have torn the stately sign from the front lawn. They broke it in pieces and hurled them through the mortuary's windows in their second spree.

Police have no suspects. An investigation is continuing.

Revenue backers step up efforts

Backers of the Amador and Pleasanton school district revenue increase measures have launched a concentrated speakers campaign aimed at reaching as many diverse civic and school groups as possible by the first week of June.

Carl Krause, assistant superintendent for personnel, told a meeting of Amador - Pleasanton principals Wednesday night that at least 15 informational meetings have been held already. At least another 25 are set for the next two weeks.

The Amador Valley Joint High School District, which includes Amador, Foothill, Dublin and Valley Continuation, is seeking a 62.7 cents per $100 assessed valuation increase over a period of three years.

Pleasanton Joint School District is asking for an 81.8-cents per $100 assessed valuation increase over a two-year span.

Thus, if approved, a house of $40,000 value in the Amador district would pay an additional tax of $24.80 in 1976-77, $44.70 in 1977-78 and $62.70 in 1978-79.

A home of $40,000 value in the Pleasanton district would pay an additional $44.70 in 76-77 and $81.80 in 77-78.

The districts say the funds are needed to "balance the budget, meet inflationary costs, provide restoration of instructional programs and maintenance projects, provide 'modest' employee raises, and to avoid further increases in class size."

Both measures, to be listed on the ballot as "A" and "B", will require simple majority votes for passage.

While the estimated enrollment of the Amador district shows an increase (4,675 presently to 4,736), the Pleasanton district is anticipating a decline, from 5,202 at present to 5,126. Dr. David Carlisle, director of research and development, estimates the schools that will lose population are Harvest Park (from 1,119 to 931) and Fairlands (625 to estimated 586).

At the high school level, Foothill's gain of approximately 300 students (to an estimated 1,339) will be almost balanced by possibles drops at Dublin (down an estimated 166), Amador (down 75) and Valley Continuation (down 9).

The present tax rates per $100 assessed valuation are $2.698 in Amador and $3.252 in Pleasanton.

In the next three weeks members of the revenue increase committees for the two districts will attempt to explain the need for tax rate increases. Without exception, the scheduled speakers are either district administrators or board members.

A Partial schedule follows;

May 17- 9:30 a.m., Rootke coffee (Betty Nostrand); 7:30 p.m., Pleasanton Art League (Carl Krause); 8 p.m., Amador - Livermore Historical Society (Neil Sweeney).

May 18- 12 noon, Pleasanton Chamber of Commerce, Hap's Restaurant; 7:30 p.m., Pleasanton Junior Women's Club. Dr. Bruce Newlin, superintendent, is scheduled to be at both meetings.

May 19— 12 noon, Soroptimists (Carl Krause); 8 p.m., Business and Professional Women's Club, Hap's ; Lydiksen School PTA (Bob Hagler); Pleasanton Jaycees.

Fireworks law loosened

Alameda County Bureau

OAKLAND — "Nothing is permanent but change," might be the motto of county supervisors who this week revamped a week old ordinance that permitted the sale of fireworks, but precluded their use.

Now, they ruled, fireworks can be used in unincorporated areas of the county on July 3, 4 and 5.

Last week's ordinance, which passed on a bare 3-2 vote after a bitter, losing battle by county fire chiefs, was granted "reluctantly" when county counsel Richard Moore said state law stops counties from prohibiting the sale of "safe and sane" fireworks.

The modified ordinance passed this week by the same board majority restricts the sale to commercial areas and ties the number of stands to the local population.

Supervisors John Murphy, Joseph Bort and Fred Cooper voted in for both measures, while Charles Santana and Tom Bates opposed them.

Fire chiefs argued, and the board apparently agreed, that the state law is "totally ridiculous" in allowing the sale but not the use.

The chiefs claimed this year's drought presents a special hazard that would have warranted a challenge of the state law.

They also claim other counties in the Bay Area have not taken such a strict interpretation of the law.

But Fremont Mayor Gene Rhodes, arguing that businesses in unincorporated Castro Valley would be prohibited from competing in fireworks sales with businesses in the adjoining City of Hayward, carried both days.

A move by Bort to limit the sale permits to non-profit organizations failed when county counsel ruled that this, too, is prohibited by state law.

Instead, the county will accept applications through June 21. And if the number of applicants exceeds authorized permits, they'll have a drawing to select sellers.

"This gives us an ordinance we can live with," said Bort. "This way fire chiefs in each district still can say 'no' if (the use) presents a hazard."

The permit will cost $100. An additional $100 damage deposit must be made.

The Alameda County Board of Supervisors new ordinance notwithstanding (see accompanying story), Valley Community Services District (VCSD) Fire Chief Phil Phillips says fireworks may be neither sold nor used in the unincorporated hamlet of Dublin.

The new county ordinance covers all unincorporated areas, but VCSD "is an autonomous agency. We can have an ordinance more restrictive than the county's, but not less restrictive," he said.

Firecrackers, cherrybombs, bottle rockets and the like are illegal throughout the state.

Zone 7 Board

Schweser—'Dublin needs a voice'

This is the fifth in a series of articles on eight candidates for the Zone 7, Alameda County Flood Control and Water Conservation District, Board of Directors.

Tom Schweser thinks the west end of the valley hasn't been getting a fair shake on water quality. A former director of Valley Community Services District, Schweser is the only candidate from Dublin, and he believes it will be important to have a Dublin voice on the zone board.

"I don't know whose fault it is," Schweser said, "but Zone 7 has been fluctuating the quality of water it delivers to VCSD. That's making it difficult for VCSD to control the blend of water it gives the residents."

Schweser said he'd like to see a balance in the quality of water throughout the valley. And he'd like to see Zone 7 work out an arrangement with the cities and Dublin to make it more financially feasible for them to stop mixing their well water with the treated water Zone 7 provides.

Schweser admitted the Del Valle Water Treatment Plant probably can't supply all the water necessary to get the cities off their own wells, but he said he'd favor an expansion of the plant "if VCSD and Pleasanton were willing to pay for it."

He recognizes that cities can make a good deal of money off their own water sales. "It will be hard for the zone to get the cities to give up revenue because of the financial straits the cities are in," he said.

Schweser thinks the concept of a "super sewer" to transport effluent out of the valley is "ridiculous." The time to have built a super sewer pipeline, he explained, was before spending a great deal of money to upgrade sewage treatment plants.

"The Alameda County Water District was complaining some years ago about salts getting into their water systems with tertiary treatment. A pipeline was suggested at that time, but the Regional Water Quality Control Board opposed it. Regional agencies baffle me," Schweser confessed.

"I'm not satisfied that the pipeline is the way to go no matter what size it is," Schweser said. He favors sending treated sewage down the Alameda Creek into the natural drainage of the Niles Cone.

"With sewage treated, there's no health hazard," he said. "ACWD needs the water to keep the underground basins built up. Without the discharge they'll need to buy more imported water."

Schweser hopes that Fremont and the valley can get together and press the RWQCB to reevaluate their requirement.

Schweser said RWQCB doesn't seem to care how much money has been spent to upgrade the VCSD sewage treatment plant. "And the 87.5 per cent of the pipeline to be paid for by the state and federal government, that's my money, too. It's spread thinner but we still pay for it."

Schweser foresees the need for water reclamation in the future. And he thinks that Zone 7 is in a better overall position to plan water management if they take over sewage treatment.

"If the zone ever builds its own plant, they should take over the rest. Either get in or stay out," he said. "It's going to be important for the zone to look into sewage treatment. Water reclamation may be necessary in the future and if so, Zone 7 should have some contingency plans."

Zone 7, Schweser said, shouldn't get involved in political battles. "A special district like Zone 7 is formed and operated to provide service. It has no business getting into areas it's not authorized to be into," he said.

Schweser opposes using the zone for land use planning. "It's wrong to use special districts to do things that cities and the county should be doing," he said.

Zone 7, he declared, has responsibility to provide water to "an approved development no matter where it's located."

Schweser said he didn't know very much about Geldertown, but he added, "it's pretty well agreed that this valley has a certain holding capacity. Where development goes is up to the cities and the county, and it's none of VCSD's or Zone 7's business."

Schweser is an alternate to the Local Agency Formation Commission. He thinks major developments should be annexed to existing cities if the development is within the city's sphere of influence.

Schweser thinks the decision to exclude Geldertown from Livermore's sphere of influence was a good one. "Why should people in Las Positas valley be in the sphere of a city when they never want to annex to that city? The land is rural in nature and that's the way they want it to stay."

Schweser is concerned about voter apathy in Dublin. "I don't think they really care that much about what goes on," he said. A merger with Pleasanton, Schweser thinks, might help reduce apathy in the Dublin community.

A contractor by profession, Schweser says he offers a continuation of the rational thinking provided by retiring Zone 7 board members Harlan Zodtner and Robert Becker.

He hopes to win one of the three seats up for election on June 8 because "it will be important to have a Dublin voice on the board."

He puts himself philosophically between those who advocate no growth and those who would not restrict growth at all. "The philosophy to stop all growth is as irrational an approach as the wild growth of the 1960s," he said.

"If the board's composition is all one view, we won't get anything done," Schweser said. "We need different views and rational people who will base their decisions on facts."

Livermore Mayor Helen Tirsell has declared this week as National Police Week — a tradition established in 1963 by the President of the United States and Governor of the State of California. Singled out for special recognition when the proclamation was signed Monday night was Livermore Police Chief Ronald Lindgren for "the outstanding service rendered to the community by the Livermore Police Department and the dedicated man under whom they now serve." National Police Week precedes Police Memorial Day, May 15.

Mercer led in donations

PLEASANTON — Councilman Ken Mercer not only led the vote tallies in his first bid for elective office, but he also led the campaign contributions in the city election, according to final filings under the Proposition 9 law.

Mercer's donors gave him a total of $4,324.50 and he spent $3,530 in the campaign. During the final of three required reporting periods, Mercer listed 10 contributors who gave $50 or more.

They included six real estate sales persons at Allied Brokers: James Lavey, $100; Jack Lavey, $100;, Dan and Donna Ganache, $100; and Ron and Nora Smith, $200.

Other big contributors were George and Renee Spiliotopoulos, $100; Tri - Valley Pediatric Association Medical Group, $50; Bill and Gloria Rose of the Bar Fence Co., $150; Willow West, $50; Attorney Jack Smith of Halsey, Schenone, Tucker, Birchfield and Smith, $50; and the Southern Alameda County Board of Realtors (SACBOR), $75.

Attorney Smith also contributed $50 to the unsuccessful campaign of downtown merchant Gene Finch, who listed Smith's occupation as "unknown." Finch also received $75 from SACBOR during the third reporting period, Feb. 17 to April 20. Finch's total contributions amounted to $1,352, including $100 of donated time by attorney James Armstrong.

Councilman Frank Brandes, also successful in his first council bid, placed second in the financial sweepstakes and second in the polling. Brandes reported at total of $2,225.58, including donated services.

He received $617.50 in the third reporting period, all of it in amounts less than $50, and contributors' names were not reported. (Proposition 9 requires names reported only when donations are over $50, either individually or cumulatively.)

Jim Jordan reported $1,898.08 as his campaign total, including a $50 contribution from Willow West Properties. Councilman William Herlihy, who ran third in the balloting, reported $1,592.15, including $50 from Willow West, $50 from Vic Lund, Jr., whose occupation is listed as a farmer, and $30 from John Stanley, local manager of PG&E.

Herlihy's campaign committee contributed $262 and it was not itemized by contributor.

Realtor Russ Attebery filed a statement declaring he spent less than $200. By law he does not have to give more information than that for such a small amount.

Roger McLain, who had served 10 months on the council by appointment, but lost in a bid for election to the council, missed filing the needed information by the deadline last Thursday.

Sewer line costs may jump

LIVERMORE — The Livermore Amador Valley Wastwater Management Aoency will have to come up with a minimum of $6 million and possibly as much as $7.25 million in revenue bonds to pay the local share of their effluent disposal pippline.

Financial consultants Ernie Bodnar of Stone and Youngberg gave the LAVWA board that preliminary assessment last night. It is approximately double the amount of money LAVWA had estimated it would need to obtain.

The costs are based on a pipeline sized for 15.72 million gallons of sewage per day. Total cost for the construction of the facilities is $16,130,000. It is not known how much of this can be funded by state and federal grants.

Purchase of land and right - of - way, not grant fundable, will add $345,000, bringing the total cost of the project to $16,475,000.

LAVWA costs break down as follows:

- $1,163,000 for industrial capacitiy in the pipeline, not grant fundable.
- $1,815,000 for local share of construction costs, a minimum 12.5 per cent of the total project.
- $345,000 for land, not grant fundable.
- Total out - of - pocket costs estimated at $3,775,000

Additional costs to finance the bonds include:

- $725,000 for cash flow deficit (5 per cent of the grant fundable flow).
- $1,100,000 interest on bonds during construction.
- $600,000 for bond service reserve.

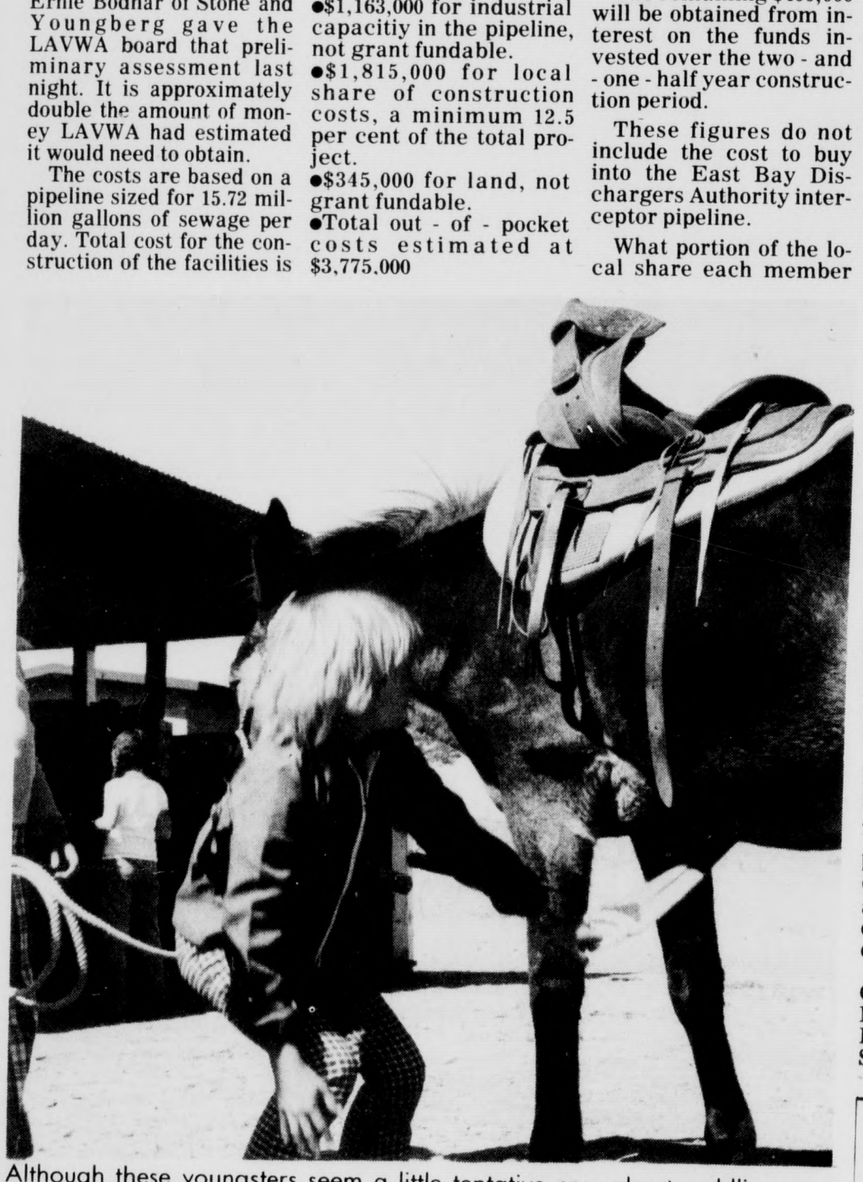
The remaining $400,000 will be obtained from interest on the funds invested over the two - and - one - half year construction period.

These figures do not include the cost to buy into the East Bay Dischargers Authority interceptor pipeline.

What portion of the local share each member agency (Livermore, Pleasanton and Valley Community Services District) will bear has not yet been determined.

The LAVWMA board seemed unable to believe their ears. "Wait a minute," said VCSD President Ron Hyde. " This is a whole new ballgame." Livermore Mayor Helen Tirsell termed the report "downright discouraging."

Bodnar emphasized the figures were preliminary and would be reviewed. But he added, "I don't suspect they'll chance very much."



Although these youngsters seem a little tentative now about saddling up a horse, they'll soon practically become experts at horsemanship. Why? Because they'll attend Camp Bronco, due to open in June through the Livermore Area Recreation and Park District. Camp Bronco is a summer program that teaches youngsters eight to 13 years old how to groom, saddle, mount and ride a horse. The day camp, taught at Veterans Park and Sycamore Grove by Kathy Hansen, uses equipment loaned by local ranchers. Information on this camp and all other classes and activities sponsored by LARPD this summer will be available in brochures to be distributed to all Livermore residents the last week in May or first week in June. Registration for all Summer '76 programs is set to begin June 8, except for aquatics.

In 1886, Joseph Hobson Jagger won over two million francs at Monte Carlo in eight days of playing the roulette wheel. He came to be known as "The man who broke the bank at Monte Carlo." An expert on spindles, Jagger suspected one of the roulette wheels of a faulty spindle and watched it for over a week. Thereafter, he bet on the numbers turning up with more than just mathematical probability and won his fortune.

The candidates are vying for the seat vacated by Edmund Linscheid. The fifth supervisorial district covers portions of San Ramon.

Prop 15 rapped

The California League of Cities and the California Jaycees have come out in opposition to Proposition 15, the nuclear initiative.

"While encouraging proper and desirable safeguards, the League of California Cities opposes Proposition 15 because it imposes unrealistic conditions on the Congress, the State Legislature, the public and private operators of nuclear plants," San Diego Mayor Pete Wilson, president of the League of Cities, said.

Vincent tour

PLEASANTON — Alameda County Supervisor candidate Irene Vincent will tour Santa Rita Rehabilitation Center on May 17 to acquaint herself with the facilities.

She will be accompanied by two aides, Gloria Carr and Marge Stout.

Prop 3 endorsed

The East Bay Municipal Utilities District (EBMUD) Board of Directors has endorsed Proposition 3, a measure that would authorize the state to sell $175 million in general obligation bonds for loans and grants to upgrade domestic water systems to meet Federal and state drinking water standards.

The EBMUD resolution noted that about 63 per cent of the domestic water systems in California do not meet the minimum standards set by the Federal Safe Drinking Water Act of 1974.

The proposed bond issue would enable smaller water agencies to finance improvement projects which otherwise might not be possible without prohibitive increases in cost to consumers, the directors said.

No supplier would receive more than $1.5 million in loans unless approved by the legislature, and first priority would be given to systems with the worst health problems.

Proposition 3 has also received endorsement of the Association of California Agencies, the California Municipal Utilities Association, the California Association of Sanitation Agencies, the Sierra Club, and the League of Women Voters.

Zone 7 forum

PLEASANTON — All eight candidates for Zone 7 will give a five minute speech at the Pleasanton Area Democratic Club meeting, May 17.

The Club will meet at Hap's Restaurant in Pleasanton. The business meeting starts at 7:30 p.m. Candidates will begin speaking at 8 p.m. A question and answer period will follow.

Another Komandorski bill

PLEASANTON — Assemblyman Floyd Mori has introduced yet another bill designed to extend the life of Komandorski Village.

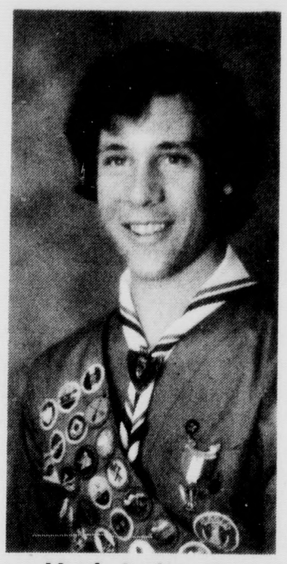
The Pleasanton Housing Authority's public housing project originally was built to house World War II personnel and the Legislature decreed in the 1960's the that such projects would have to come down because they were designed as "temporary war housing".

But the city has been stymied from building 150 units of new public housing to replace it, mainly owing to the failure to get sewer connections, so two - year extensions have been granted over the past six years, all introduced by the late Assemblyman Carlos Bee.

Bee's successor Mori has introduced his first Komandorski - saving bill, which would extend the project's life from January 1, 1977, to the first day of 1979.

"Pleasanton voters in 1972 authorized contruction of 150 low - income housing units to replace Komandorski Village," Mori said in a press release yesterday. "Unfortunately the city has not found the right combination of land with sewer connection permits and public financing needed to begin the replacement project."

"Without the current housing facilities, hundreds of people will be forced out on the streets to find different places to live. This would be an unnecessary tragedy which can be avoided by maintaining the Komandorski Village until Jan. 1, 1979," he said.



Mark Anderson

Mark S. Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Anderson of Pleasanton was awarded the rank of Eagle Scout at ceremonies held on May 8.

Mark is a member of Boy Scouts of America Troop 916, Pleasanton, sponsored by the Highland Oaks Homeowners Association. He is an honor student and member of the sophmore class at Foothill High School, Pleasanton.

For his Eagle Project, Mark organized and supervised a work party for restoration of the Rifle Range at the Los Mochos Scout Reservation in the Livermore hills.

Farmers' '76 outlook is mixed

SAN FRANCISCO — Bank economists are predicting a mixed outlook for California's agricultural picture in 1976, forecasting a modest increase in gross income largely offset by continued production cost increases.

A Bank of America survey, "California Agriculturlure: Outlook 1976," forecasts a modest three per cent increase in gross farm income. Although the moderate growth rate will not keep pace with recovery expected for the economy as a whole, California's 1976 net farm income is expected to be the fourth best in the state's history.

The bank report forecasts a $9.2 billion improvement in gross farm income, but also predicts a six per cent increase in production costs. These rising production costs are expected to force net farm income down to $1.87 billion, eight per cent below 1975's $2.03 billion mark.

The bank survey reflects an anticipated six per cent rise in livestock and livestock products receipts to some $3.15 billion in 1976. Much of the growth will come from cattle, calves and dairy products. This industry, the state's number one cash commodity, is recovering from two years of cattle oversupply. Cattle inventory declined in 1975 for the first time in nine years.

Utilities plan 25 reactors

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Four major California utilities plan about 25 new nuclear reactors in the next 20 years, when utilities expect atomic plants to produce 37 per cent of the state's electricity, new reports to the state Energy Commission reveal.

Three nuclear plants now in operation create 1,400 megawatts, compared to the statewide forecast of 31,000 in 20 years.

Utility forecasts also show a decline in nuclear dependence for most utilities since their last 20-year forecast, in 1974, to the state Public Utilities Commission.

The 25 reactors could involve as many as 15 new sites, according to Energy Commission officials still studying the reports.

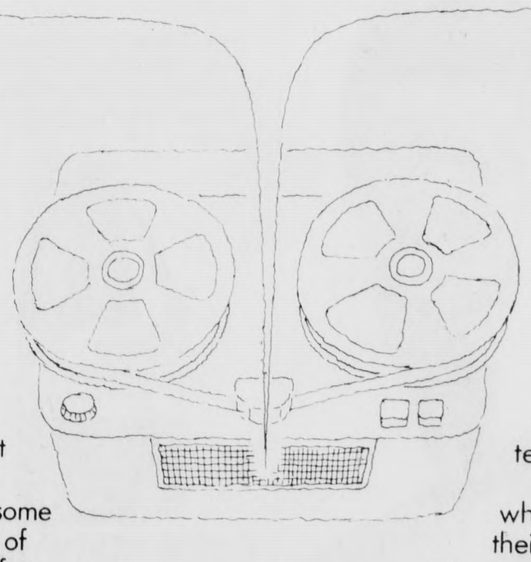
If you call 411 a lot, we'd like a few words with you.

"If you've checked your directory and are unable to find the number you wish, please stay on the line and a Directory Assistance Operator will answer. Thank You."



Starting May 15 you'll be hearing that recording every time you call 411. It'll come on just before the Operator.

We're putting it on because, even though some people have cut down on their calls to 411, a lot of people still haven't. Many of them are still calling for numbers that are listed in their telephone books, and our expenses are higher than ever.

The problem is that a few people–about 12%–make more than half of all these unnecessary calls. About 2 out of 3 of our customers call without looking in the book first. And you know that everybody winds up paying for all those unnecessary telephone calls.

So the recording is there to remind people who call for a number that may already be listed in their books to try looking it up for themselves first.

To the rest of our customers, who call 411 only when they really can't find a number, we apologize for the delay.

And we want to remind you that, when you really have to call us–for example, if you're handicapped, need numbers from out of this area, a new listing, or when you've looked and just can't find it–we're still here to help.

Susan Oliver at Fairlands

Susan Oliver

She can help more in school

(This is the 18th in a continuing series on The Classroom Teacher, featuring teachers in the Pleasanton, Amador, San Ramon and Murray school districts)

Susan Oliver's relatively brief affiliation with the teaching profession could serve as an example of the young educator honing her teaching skills to a zenith ... with the total school community the ultimate benefactors.

With five years of teaching experience to draw upon, the 27-year old native of Oakland has added maturity to a Fairlands faculty that now strikes a fine blend of "youth" and experience.

Fairlands, a K-5 school in Pleasanton, is the locale of the only Early Childhood Education program in the district.

As a second grade teacher, Miss Oliver is a principal part of the program that seeks to give first through third graders a better elementary foundation in the basics.

In discussing ECE, she notes the contributions made by the teaching aides, in this instance Myrna Bingham and Marcelline Mahern— the aides in her class.

Teaching was not in Susan's early career plans, though Originally trained to be a legal secretary while at Merritt College, and winner of a Bank of America secretarial award, she nevertheless came to the decision that secretarial work was not for her.

So, upon transferring to San Francisco State, she changed career goals and set her sights on teaching. Possessor of a B.A. in sociology, she spent a graduate year in student teaching.

During the latter period, she gained experienced in two inter - city schools (Cabrillo in San Francisco and Francis Scott Key, which is actually more a residential school— being in the Sunset area of the city).

But it was her previous volunteer work at a school in the Oakland inter-city that really moved her toward teaching.

"I wanted to do something where I would be working with people with great needs," she comments.

Later, after the completion of her student teaching, she received a job offer from a catholic school in Concord, to teach fourth grade, but right behind it came another response from the Pleasanton district.

Susan went to work in 1971 as a first grade teacher at what was then the Camp Parks School, housed at St. Augustine's Church. The school, forerunner of Fairlands, took in students from Komandorski Village and Pleasanton Meadows.

She moved, along with principal Gene Vargas and the other faculty members, to Fairlands on West Las Positas Boulevard when it opened in 1973.

The Fairlands faculty, like several other schools in Pleasanton, is a very close-knit group.

Some difficult times may be ahead for the school, though. It may lose one of three kindergarten sections because of a slight enrollment decline.

However, that could be counter-balanced in the future as families move into Heritage Valley homes.

Fairlands and Susan Oliver have reached that point, though, where the lessons of the past and the cumulative experience have prepared them for the uncertainties of the future.

Top marks for Amador High

Amador Valley High School has received a very glowing re - accreditation from the Western Association of Schools and Colleges for a full term extending through June 30, 1981.

The action was taken by the Accrediting Commission for Secondary Schools with word received by Amador principal Ralph Laird last week. Laird presented the commission's findings in booklet form to the Amador Valley Joint High School District board at their meeting Tuesday.

The panel made eight commendations and six recommendations in notifying Laird and his staff of the re-accreditation.

Among the latter were: The administration and staff should give serious consideration to formalizing a plan of articulation with the feeder schools (conference observation); the administration and staff should reevaluate their conclusion that a mentally gifted program is not feasible or advantageous, cost - wise, to the district; the appropriate administration personnel should give consideration to the expressed need of the staff for increasing custodial services during the evening work period; the administration and staff should examine the need to revise course descriptions to conform to performance criteria as per Stull Bill guidelines; administration and board should review procedures involved in processing purchase orders that fall in a non-bid price range towards the goal of expediting the process; administration and staff consider the need to analyze standardized test results, particularly those of freshmen, in order to adopt the curriculum as closely as possible to student needs.

The commendations included the following;

Good feeling and working relationships among faculty, administration, classified staff and students; administration, staff, students and community for the development of a comprehensive school report; principal Ralph Laird for sharing decision - making, particularly as it relates to the school budget; the administration and staff that has fostered a needed comprehensive school curriculum that includes so-curricular and extra-curricular activities; administration, staff, district administration and school board for recognizing the expansion needs of the library; the district staff for initiating a detailed four year follow-up study of high school graduates; staff, students, and community for the work of the Graduation Requirements Task Force committee, and the district for the development of a policy regarding controversial issues, job descriptions for school administrators and co-administrators and maintenance service personnel.

The accrediting commission also had commendations and recommendations in the areas of "philosophy," the school and the community, curriculum, materials of instruction, pupil services, administrative staff, instructional staff, school plant, student activity program and classified staff

Under school and community, the panel recommended the school staff examine the community participation patterns in school affairs, with a view toward broadening the base for citizen participation.

With regards to curriculum, three of the recommendations were to explore ways of teaching basic reading and writing skills in all courses, continue to emphasize basic communication skills both in Phased English classes and elective classes, and the administration consider ways of compensating teachers who are working on curriculum with release time and/or monies.

Under materials of instruction, the panel asks that the school district administration reconsider cutbacks in personnel assigned to library/ instructional materials center in light of their impact on service and morale.

And finally, under "school plant," the committee recommended that serious consideration be given to planning and carrying out a landscaping program for the school.

Community College needs Prop. 4

There was a time when "junior college" was at the low end of higher education's ladder. "A holding zone for high school grads not ready to enter university," was one of the kinder comments. Others offered evaluations like "glorified trade school" and "academic playground for frustrated adults."

The Community College of today is something much more than all that. But, in truth, it has never lost sight of the earlier format which its detractors assigned to it. It's just that the detractors have changed; and so too have the students.

There is a need today for "career training" of the highest order. Many respected educators are prepared to fight for new emphasis on working skills and "a re-evaluation of the whole university scene as we now know it." Even before that grand redesign occurs, the Community College is making great strides in preparing nurses, lab technicians and artisans for a host of exciting, re warding careers.

Not so well known is the role played by the two - year college in preparing young people for the full four - year university stint. The evidence suggests that many high school grads are far better prepared for university, and progress more readily than the average, after a year or two at the Community College level.

"We are also discovering that many students who come to us with the intention of completing just two years of college, find they have the talent to gain — or perhaps learn that their job demands — a full university degree," explains Dr. Barbara Mertes, Dean of the Chabot Valley Campus.

Dr. Mertes has a sensitivity for the Community College role which impresses us. As a prduct of this Valley, she is also alert to the part her campus might play in the scene beyond day time academics ... night classes for adults, enrichment programs for employees, and even a hint of athletic and cultural involvement with those who see the college campus as the center for community enrichment.

It is for all these reasons that Dr. Mentes asked this newspaper to lend its support to Proposition 4 on the upcoming June ballot, and thereby gainsome modest additions to the Chabot Valley Campus. We are pleased to pass along Dr. Mentes' plea for a "Yes vote on Prop. 4," along with our own endorsement of all that the Community College strives to accomplish.

FOCUS/ TV, athletic fields

A matter of values

A few weeks ago we ran a series entitled "Youth and Television" in which children in grades four through seven at eight Murray and Pleasanton school district schools were surveyed on their television viewing habits.

Generally speaking, the survey of the more than 700 grade school children here in the valley produced the multiple facts that kids watch an awful lot of TV from day-to-day, have some specific program likes and frequently watch after 9 p.m. on school nights.

The unmistakable conclusion is that television is a very profound influence on children of that age group (9-13 years of age) here in the valley.

Now comes a story from a small community in Illinois that shows how some children are affected by seeing actual violence and how they relate it to the simulated violence of TV.

About 50 children from kindergarten through sixth grade were walking home for lunch (in Elmhurst, Illinois) when they saw a 23-year old man stab his father to death in the front yard of the latter's home. Another 15 to 20 walked past the body on their way back to school.

The grisly sight had a very profound affect on many of them ... including reactions of prolonged fear, nightmares and vomiting.

One child is alleged to have asked his parents, "Could I do this when I get angry, too?" Another child reportedly began to act out the slaying in class. Many told their teachers, "If I close my eyes I can still see it."

In response, Elmhurst school officials began a counseling program for parents and children to deal with the after-effects.

Parents, so the wire service story goes, are being advised to keep their children away from TV, to play games with them, to go to a park or zoo or have a family picnic.

"Parents must provide children with a sense of inner security obtained from doing things as a family," the principal in Elmhurst comments.

While this true life situation is an isolated case, it nevertheless points up what kids can be exposed to not only on the tube but in movie houses (i.e., the movie "Taxi Driver" which is violent enough to give adults and children alike nightmares).

I certainly do not contend that parents should shelter their children from the vices and violence of the real or fictious world, but exercise more guidance as is suggested in the remarks of school leaders in that Illinois community.

Moving from the media to local schools....

Earlier this week The Times carried articles on the Amador school board's approval of a Foothill High School Boosters Club request to provide support for development of athletic facilities at the school.

What the Boosters want is financial help, to the prospective tune of $150,000 from the district's community services fund over the next three years.

What the district would get, perhaps as soon as this fall, would be a lighted football field with bleachers and various support facilities.

I seriously question whether this is needed now, particularly in light (no pun intended) of the two revenue increase measures to appear on the ballot June 8.

There is no reason in the world why Foothill football teams cannot share the playing field at Amador Valley High — unless the field is in such bad shape that 8 or 10 additional games per year will seriously overtax it

As it stands now, a lighted field at Foothill would be used for possibly 5 or 6 home games a year. Considering the difficult economic times, is it really worth it? —by AL FISCHER

Flowing Uphill

In the final stages of in - depth interviews with each of those candidates for the Zone 7 Flood Control and Water Conservation board of directors, some interesting positions emerge which are worth sharing with our readers:

Item — Fully half of those candidates question the logic of that "Super Sewer Line" linking this Valley to the Bay. "Why spend $20 million to bring much - needed water into this Valley, and then spend $30 million to ship it out the other end?" was the way one candidate put it.

Item — There is near - unanimous feeling that "all development should be municipal," and even a number of candidates who contend that the two or three existing urban centers in the Valley "should have veto rights over any new development near that community."

Item — There is surprising agreement that "the Valley would best be served if it were all one city," but there is also widespread belief that "this will never happen, at least not in our time."

Perhaps one of the more interesting comments came from that challenger who contends "the same people who got Livermore and Pleasanton in the red, and who stuck VCSD with a million gallon overage in that sewer system, are now asking the people to trust them to run the Zone 7 board."

We can all be happy that the Zone 7 race has attracted a field offering such experience in Valley servitude, but — as the man says — we hope these gentlemen have learned from past governmental mistakes, and are now prepared to lead us with some fresh ideas.

What representation?

Editor, The Times:

I was impressed recently by an editorial in a local paper urging us voters to spread our votes among all the areas, that are serviced by Zone 7, equally. This was ostensibly to allow all areas to have equal representation. This is indeed a strange suggestion. If it were really important why did not the law specify area representation? There is no one running from Dublin, hence right off the editorial flounders. Another flaw is that it did not consider the holdover board members nor their residence area for determining the "ideal" representation.

Also, strangely enough, the editorial stated nothing about qualifications of candidates. Surely, this is an important consideration for selecting Zone 7 members. All of the candidates are from Livermore, Pleasanton and Sunol. I am willing to go along with the editorial suggestion by voting for the candidate from Sunol. But I cannot support any of the candidates from Pleasanton because I do not believe they are as qualified as the remaining candidates. One, our ex-mayor, has no technical background whatever for this important technical Zone 7 commission. The other is a building developer, and as such he would likely have too much bias...

Livermore's three ex-mayors therefore offer the best choice from the remaining candidates. I believe the two scientists from LLL have demonstrated without question their concern for the citizens as a whole, and are therefore the other ones to vote for. One is a chemist and the other is a physicist.

Letters to the Times

Defending Murphy

Editor, The Times:

I see where Geldermann's spokesman, Bill Thompson, is busy now defending Murphy. In a letter printed May 7, he criticizes the Times for letting the public in on Supervisor Murphy's doubtful practice of declaring his principal residence for tax purposes in Nevada County while holding an elected office in Alameda County.

To defend Murphy's irregularities requires that you tread a very fine line, Bill. I wish you would be as cautious before accusing his challenger, Valerie Raymond, of illegal practices.

In that same letter you ask the Times to "expose" a violation of Proposition 9 because "her campaign letter bears neither the "name of the printer or publisher." Thanks, Bill, for giving me the opportunity to explain that Valerie's Newsletter is the result, totally, of volunteer effort. It is written, composed, typed, run off on a borrowed mimeograph, and prepared for mailing by "Citizens to Elect Valerie Raymond, 1336 Lillian Street" with "Labor Donated" as can be read easily on its front page. There can be no violation when no printer is hired — when nobody gets any pay for his work.

I suppose the idea of a candidate inspiring citizens to work without any pay just didn't seem possible to you. Anyway, we were glad to learn you are reading Valerie's Newsletter.

Nuclear dupe

Editor, The Times:

There are more deaths each year caused by cigarette smoking and alcohol related accidents than any other diseases combined. Yet we have heard no outcry from the public for a shutdown of the tobacco or alcohol industry.

Most of these same people who consume tobacco and alcohol in great quantities and teach their children to do the same, are now asking for a shutdown of nuclear energy across the country. A shutdown of an industry which has a proven record of safety over the past 30 years and which takes great safeguards for our personal safety each time a plant is built. There is no solutOn to our energy problems and will probably be none until the turn of the century. Considering the alternatives, which is nothingx how can the American public be duped into voting such an initiative into effect.

Magic Act

Editor, The Times:

The Miller-Futch magic show is in town again. You remember. They were the two magicians who made the multi-million dollar Livermore building industry disappear.

I was disappointed in their act. Thought they might at least make another industry appear in its place.

Turns out that was the only trick they knew.

Their choice

Editor, The Times:

As nine year members of the VCSD board, we have had the unique opportunity to know, work with, observe at close range, and evaluate six of the current Zone 7 candidates. They are rather extraordinary in their backgrounds, experience, and commitment to public service.

But as in all elections, only the top vote getters are put into office. Because of our residence in San Ramon we are unable to vote in this election, but because of our VCSD responsibilities in Dublin/San Ramon we have a deep and abiding interest in the outcome. You may have some interest in our recommendations, which are:

Don Miller, probably the most courageous champion of the ordinary citizen to emerge in the Valley in our generation; Archer Futch, an intrepid, thoughtful, intelligent, and compassionate man; Dave Harris, dedicated to service in the public realm. These candidates will serve all the people of the Valley well.

Congratulations to all the candidates for their willingness to put themselves on the line in a very tough election.

round the town

In keeping with this newspaper's pledge to provide our readers with "all the news you wouldn't otherwise get unless you read cereal boxes," I am pleased to report the following:

Sheriff Alan J. Cottar has announced his resignation, and...

The State Historical Advisory Commission has voted 4-1 to designate Tulelake as a "relocation center" rather than a "concentration camp."

You may have gotten wind of either of these startling news items from another source, but I guarantee that NOWHERE were the two items pieced together for your enlightenment. It is just your luck that this reporter was covering that Siskiyou County beat during those years when Alan Cottar rode the range, and when memories were still fresh in Tulelake of the thousands of Japanese our all - knowing government relocated to that barren lava waste at the height of World War II.

Space does not permit me to tell the full story of good old Al Cottar. Sufficient to say that his resignation climaxes a fascinating career in law enforcement dating back to the early 1950s. This was the time in Siskiyou County's life when men were men, homesteaders were crazy, and there was a slot machine in every gas station.

("But I thought Jackson was the seat of all things fun and illegal in the California of 1950," I can hear some of you history buffs say. That just shows you how little is recorded in the history books.)

Gambling wasn't exactly legal in the Northern California climes of that era. But it wasn't exactly illegal, either. As with prostitution and other adult recreation, gambling was simply an honest outlet for the pent - up emotions of those hard working, hard drinking men of the Siskiyou soil.

"After I get through eating powdered lava rock and sitting in a D-8 saddle for 12 hours, I want something more to finish out my day than a bowl of soup and a battle with the old lady." Such was the credo of East Siskiyou County, in the first flush of our nation's triumph over Hitler, Hirohito and whooping cough.

Tulelake, as you well know, was the capital of East Siskiyou County. This was important because Tule was a hard day's ride from Yreka, the capital of West Siskiyou County. Particularly if you stopped at the 21 tables in Dorris while en route.

And that is why, whenever we had reason to summon the sheriff or his trusted deputies, a tremendous amount of time elapsed between the placing of such a call until the law man arrived Sometimes days. Often weeks. Or months. Or never.

Since crimes have a way of growing cold, evidence lost, witnesses dispersed in that span of time, you can see that East Siskiyou County had little choice but to take the law into our own hands, as they say. This we did, bending same here and there as it suited the community's current needs.

I must say that never in all my years of observing the American scene have I seen justice that worked so well, or so speedily.

"Just so long as it don't upset the duck hunters or the gambling," I heard the local Justice of the Peace intone over many a corpse. And with that as the measure of our jurisprudence, Tulelake prospered in potatoes, methane gas and seven the hard way.

The Japanese who shared that scene in the 1940s did not fare all that badly, either. Leastwise them that ran the camp, controlled the store, provided the services, and otherwise eked out a tidy profit by catering to the needs of their fellowmen. I will not bore you here with the full detail of "Little Tokyo," other than to suggest that the law out there was not unlike that which existed in the town nearby. The fittest survived, and very well indeed.

Now the camp is but a memory, and so too is Sheriff Cottar The latter public servant vacated his post just as the State Attorney General was preparing to file civil suit against Alan in the matter of some uncertain income traced to the hard working sheriff.

The camp which once housed an entire Japanese community, exists still, but only as a shadow of its once vibrant self.

And now the State Historical Advisory Commission is badly split over the attempt to record that center for all time as a "concentration camp." I am one former Tulelaker who can see no justification whatsoever for such a dastardly title.

Not unless they simply declare allof East Siskiyou County as a concentration camp. Which isn't really a bad idea.

But then why is Sheriff Cottar resigning, just when things are getting interesting?

California Justice

Quick release

by George Nicholson

Is one month in the California Youth Authority just and proper punishment for a person who: (1) kidnaped a nurse from a South San Francisco shopping center; (2) robbed her; (3) stuffed her in the trunk of a car; (4) drove more than 150 miles with her cramped in that trunk; (5) murdered her by a shot in the head; and (6) irreverently dumped the body north of Willits?

Mendocino County District Attorney Duncan James adamantly thinks not. James called the May 1976 parole of a youthful murderer "a classic example of the total farce the California Youth Authority really is."

James said the reason stated by the California Youth Authority for this quick release was because the murderer "needs a warm, stable, long-term homelike placement."

One question raised by this "reason" is, how "warm, stable and homelike" was the South San Francisco nurse as she lay crowded into the trunk of the death car that carried her to her end?

This parole is clearly against the laws of God and man, which seem to have been forgotten by the California Youth Authority.

In the Bible, it is written, "I will punish you according to the fruit of your doings."

More recently, William Schwenk Gilbert in 1885 wrote The Mikado, which included, "My object all sublime I shall achieve in time — to make the punishment fit the crime."

England's Lord Justice Denning, in 1953, said, "The punishment inflicted for grave crimes should adequately reflect the revulsion felt by the great majority of citizens for them. It is a mistake to consider the objectives of punishment as being deterrent or preventive and nothing else ... The ultimate justification of any punishment is ... that it is the emphatic denunciation by the community of a crime; ..."

Two United States Supreme Court Justices have explained the grave potential when government is unwilling or unable to properly fit punishment to the criminals.

In 1881, Justice Oliver Wendell Homes wrote: "If people would gratify the passion of revenge outside of the law, if the law did not help them, the law has no choice but to satisfy the craving itself, and thus, avoid the greater evil of private retribution."

In 1972, Justice Potter Stewart wrote: "The instinct for retribution is part of the nature of man, and channeling that instinct in the administration of criminal justice serves an important purpose in promoting the stability of a society governed by law. When people begin to believe the organized society is unwilling or unable to impose upon priminal offenders the punishment they 'deserve,' then there are sown the seeds of anarchy — of self-help, vigilante justice and lynch law."

Certainly, any parole of a convicted murderer after only one month shocks the conscience of all decent - thinking people everywhere.

Such miscarriages of justice are not modernly uncommon. This case is but the most recent.

Times are so bad, United States Attorney General Edward H. Levi, and California Attorney General Evelle Younger readily admit crime, particularly violent crime, is overwhelming us. Sadly, it most devastates the poor, weak and elderly.

It is surely time, in this our Bicentennial, for the People to rise up, with revolutionary fervor, if necessary, and require any person who seeks elective office to state their position on this and related criminal justice issues.

Not only those who aspire to elective office, but also those who desire to remain in elective office, should declare themselves now, so the public may knowingly choose only those willing and able to stop such travesties of justice and to move quickly to restore peace, order, and give meaning once again to the basic right of all citizens to personal security. Only then may there again be public justice in California.

Opening lead — Q ♦

By Oswald & James Jacoby

Here is a hand from H. W. Kelsey's "Bridge Logic" that may be described as far out. You are in a very optimistic five-club contract.

The game is match-point duplicate and you feel that the field will be in four clubs, not five.

The defense starts with three rounds of diamonds. You ruff the third diamond high and West discards a spade. Both opponents follow when you lead your ace of clubs.

You are about to cash the king of clubs and settle for down one if both opponents follow, but you stop to try to visualize a card combination that will let you make your contract.

There is one unlikely combination. Give West exactly five cards in each major and he will be squeezed. That means East must have started with three clubs.

So you lead a heart to dummy, finesse your 10 of trumps, lead out all your trumps, squeeze poor West out of a spade or heart stopper and wind up with a top score of top scores.

Weather hot, Gangnuss hotter

Temperatures in the high 90's affected many of the performances in the East Bay Athletic League meet at Granada High School yesterday but in the end Chuck Gangnuss of Dublin again proved to be the big star.

Gangnuss won both hurdle races and ran a swift leg on the 440-yard relay team which clocked a winning 43.7.

Gangnuss saved his best performance for the 330-yard lows. He ran a brillant curve and raced to sports

a blazing 37.9 time, second best in the East Bay and fourth fastest in the Bay Area this season.

Gangnuss's time in the highs was a fair 14.6. He got off to a good start but stumbled near the fifth hurdle. He recorded a 14.6, the same clocking as runner-up Scott Campbell of Granada.

"The heat didn't really bother me that much," he said after the race. "I stumbled a bit after Campbell touched me at the fifth hurdle."

Gangnuss was happier with his 330-lows clocking. "I'm looking for 37.0 next week," (at the regionals) he said.

The Gael 440-yard relay team of Gangnuss, Jim Boulware, Jon Batchelor and Rick Chan won by seven tenths of a second over runner-up Livermore. Boulware, who finished second to Gangnuss in the lows in 38.8, put the Gaels into a solid lead with a strong second leg.

Other double winners in the varsity competition were Bill Fowler of Monte Vista in the sprints and strongman Mike Bowles of San Ramon in the shot put and discus.

Fowler whipped a strong field in the 100 with a 10.1 clocking and came back to edge Batchelor with a 22.7 time in the furlong. Batchelor recorded a 22.8 clocking.

Bowles won the shot put with a 48-8½ toss and took the discus with a 149-10½ throw. He has thrown 175-7 in the discus this year.

One of the most thrilling races on the varsity level was the 880 where Paul Swenson of San Ramon out on a strong finishing kick to beat Brad Curry of Monte Vista. Swenson ran a 1:59.7 to Currys' 2:00.2. Swanson has run a 1:56.5 this season.

"This was the roughest race I've had all season," a tired Swenson said after the two-lapper. "It was just too hot. Also, I started thinking during the race and when you do that you start thinking you can lose. I think it will take a 1:55 or 1:56 to win next week."

Craig Johnson of Foothill came through with a impressive 51.3 to win the 440 over a well - balanced field. He finished half a second ahead of the second place runner.

Scott Kusko of Granada and Dan Harvey of Dublin took top honors in the distance races. Kusko won the mile with an excelllent 63.0 last lap. His winning time was 4:33.4. Harvey was second in 4:36.6.

"Yea, it was hot out there," Kusko said. "I was just running to win I wasn't really concerned with the time."

What are his goals for the season?

"I'm hopeful of running under 4:28.(His personal best) I don't know much about the runners I'll meet next week."

Harvey won the two-mile in 10:01.3, well-ahead of Boyd Tarin of Livermore, who recorded a 10:27.3 for second place. Tarin, who has a best of 9:22.0 this year, has been bothered by injuries much of the season.

In another exciting event Kelly Hardiman of Livermore took the high jump with a 6-4 leap, an inch under his best.

He cleared 6-4 on his first attempt, nudging the bar with his foot.

"I was over the bar at 6-6 on my second attempt but I hit it with my foot," the 5-10 Hardiman said. "The heat didn't really both me. It actually made it easier to loosen up."

The girls' division was marred by an injury to Livrmore's outstanding long jumper - sprinter Paula Ng.

Running the final leg of the 440-yard relay Ng injured a hamstring and pulled up, unable to finish the race. She was counted on by the Cowboys to go to the state meet.

"We're going to put her on a hardship case," said Livermore girls' coach Judy Byers. We're hoping she can run at the Section meet."

Carol Dolsby of Monte Vista was the star of the girls' competition. She set a league record in the shot put with a 40-1 toss and won the discus with a 113-11 throw, 19 feet ahead of her near rival.

Kathy Honour of Granada won the long jump with an excellent 17-3¼ leap.

In frosh-soph competition San Ramon showed its distance strength by taking three of the top five places in the mile. Jim Anklam won the race in 4:42.7, Nelson Snook was second in 4:50.8 and Paul Newcomb took fifth in 5:00 9.

The first four places in each event of the three divisions qualify for the large-school regionals next week at El Cerrito High School. Fifth placers will be alternates.

Super mods open

Altamont Speedway will open its season with the first of a series of open competitions sponsored by the Golden State Racing Association Sunday.

A $4000 gauranteed purse has drawn over 80 entrants to what is billed as the West's fastest half - mile oval. A 25-lap main event is scheduled for 2 p.m. with qualifying at noon.

Also scheduled is a match race between two of Northern California's most active super modified owners, Pete Winters of Manteca and Tracy's Nelson Santos.

Rivals for years, the two ranchers will enter cars in a $100 match race to be run off immediately after qualifying. Defending Golden West Classic champion Johnny Brazil will drive for Santos while Howard Kaeding pilots Winters' vehicle.

Kaeding is a former state super modified champion.

San Francisco's Nick Rescino will be attempting to break the one-lap record of 17.14 seconds (105.107) and believes he can go under 16 seconds in qualifying.

Top drivers in the main event will be Mike Sargent, who has had a hot hand of late, winning two dirt races at Santa Clara and taking last week's main at San Jose, Ed Evans of Reno, impressive at Roseville and Santa Clara; former Altamont champ Wendell Chambers and Terry Chalker, who won the last race at Santa Clara this spring.

Also on the card will be, Lloyd Beard (Los Banos), Ron Horton (Concord), Johnny Anderson (Sacramento), Mike Damron (San Jose), Dave Pombo (Fresno), Fred Ede (Fresno), Jim Klein (Fresno), Gary Patterson (Sacramento), Leroy Van Connett (Galt), Dave Ellis (Concord) and Bill Deschamps (Lakeport).

The case of the 3-way tie

Yesterday's scheduled East Bay Athletic League make - up golf match between Livermore and Amador Valley wasn't.

Designed to eradicate an early-season tie between the two teams and to help uncloud the question of the league's North Coast Section tourney representative, the match, scheduled for Las Positas Golf Course was cancelled.

According to those involved, it will not be played at all. With the Section meet scheduled for Monday in Alameda, it would appear that EBAL tourney champ Monte Vista will be the league's representative.

Further light is expected to be shed on the decidedly confusing matter today in a statement from one of the coaches involved in the three-way hassle for first place.

The magic moment— Julie is announced as Maid of Pleasanton

Sister succeeds sister

Makings of a dynasty

Having a Maid of Pleasanton in the household is old hat to the Hemming family on Shearwater Road Road.

Not that Julie Hemming's crowning as Maid of Pleasanton last week drew a collective ho-hum. The fact is, Julie had a big family and friends rooting section at Castlewood Country Club when her name was announced.

A senior at Amador Valley High School, the just - turned - 18 lass is looking forward to an event - filled year. And she'll have a pretty good idea of what to expect as her sister, Karen Hemming Johnson, was Maid of Pleasanton in 1969-70.

The 5-4, 110-pound blonde also has one other sister, Kathy Hemming Fillmore, and two brothers, Jerry and Walter.

Born in Norfolk, Virginia, she and her family came to Pleasanton eight years ago. Except for a 1½-year period during her junior high years spent in New Jersey, Julie has been a resident of Pleasanton and student at Amador.

A member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, she is guided by the precepts of the Mormon church and believes, "as I learned from a friend, you treat people like you would want to be treated."

Julie does not go along with some contemporary thinking, as regards beauty pageants, that the young women are being "used." "If you feel you're going to be an ornament then you don't have to participate."

With hopes of being a model and/or entering the fashion merchandising field, Julie will work for a year after graduation next month and then consider if she wants to go to college.

As a sophomore she was a letter girl and has also been a pom-pon girl and cheer leader, junior class princess and homecoming queen.

She says her friends and sister encouraged her to enter the Maid of Pleasanton Pageant, which is sponsored by the Pleasanton Chamber of Commerce.

Julie will represent the community at the Maid of Alameda County Pageant on Sunday, June 27 at the Fairgrounds Amphitheatre — doubtlessly with an even bigger rooting section of wellwishers.

Livermore girls get science grants

LIVERMORE — Two Livermore High School graduating seniors, Tiki Barron and Lora Ann Crawford, are receiving the Bettie Shroyer Memorial Fund awards worth $300 each.

The Bettie Shroyer Memorial Fund is a private fund set up in the memory of Mrs.Shroyer, a former Lawrence Livermore Lab employe. The scholarships are intended for graduating senior girls at Livermore High who intend to major in science in college.

Tiki, the foster daughter of Mr. and Mrs Dave Waterman of 16900 Tesla Road, came to Livermore two years ago from Amador High, Pleasanton. She has been active in student government and the Girl Scouts since coming to LHS. She plans to major in math and science at San Jose State University.

Lora, daughter of Mrs. Helen Crawford of 3120 Kennedy St., Livermore, has attended LHS all four years and has established a fine record at the school. She is a member of the Medical Explorers scout post at Valley Memorial Hospital and has been a member of the California Scholarship Federation for four years.

She plans to major in medicine and science at the University of California, Berkeley.

Kids will hop at Festival

Children will have plenty to keep them busy at the Heritage Festival this Saturday and Sunday at Amador Valley Community Park in Pleasanton.

In the Recreation Center on Black Avenue there'll be a Children's Art Show along with activities for children to express creative artistic efforts on the spot.

The Heritage Festival, featuring some 150 arts and crafts booths, food booths, demonstrations and stage presentations, will run from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. both Saturday and Sunday. The Pleasanton Bicentennial Festival Committee is sponsoring the event in cooperation with the Pleasanton Art League.

Outside the Recreation Center, Dottie Bartlett will be demonstrating the art of candlemaking and will have opportunities for kids to help her and discover how candles are made.

In the Youth Center building, various old-time movies will be shown. Proceeds from this part of the festival will go directly to the youth program and projects.

Kids of all ages will enjoy seeing the antique cards on display. Antique fire fighting machinery, belonging to the Pleasanton Fire Department, will also be on display.

Soap - making and meat cutting are among the home arts to be demonstrated during the festival. The Wayside Weavers will also have their spinning and weaving demonstration set up.

Adult art entries will be shown in the Cultural Arts Center during the festival. Watercolors, oils, and other paintings will be on display along with sculpture, weaving, pottery, and other artistic entries. Several potters will be working at the center.

Many valley youth and civic groups have food speciality booths rarin' to go. Food and drink are guaranteed to please all palates.

For those who enjoying ethnic dances, barbershop quartets and variety, there'll be stage presentations throughout the two days. Interspersed will be 3 to 5 minute speeches by Pleasanton area students in the fashion of Town Criers of old.

All persons attending the festival are encouraged to do so in costume; either colonial, western or typical of their ethnic background. Three prizes will be awarded each day at 3:20 p.m. at the stage (to be located between the library and rec center). Judging of the costumes will be done by members of the Bicentennial Festival Committee and members of the Amador Valley Historical Society.

Two passes to Marriott's Great America Amusement Park in Santa Clara will be awarded both Saturday and Sunday.

Parking near the Amador Valley Community Park is somewhat limited so people are encouraged to walk or ride their bicycles to the festival. Special bike racks will be provided.

Want a finer lawn? Then read this!

Warren' research facilities, established twenty years ago, have under observation over 1,000 strains and species of grasses. Some of these grasses have been patented and are available to the public in various parts of the United States and Europe.

About ten years ago one of these new grasses...

BenSun (A-34)

KENTUCKY BLUEGRASS

...was introduced into California. Its performance has proven to be outstanding for these reasons:

- Rated first in shade tolerance (up to 65%) yet grows vigorously in full sunlight.
- Rated first in wear tolerance by a university doing turfgrass research. (Of eighteen top bluegrasses tested, for golf course use, BenSun (A-34) was the only grass to receive an excellent rating.)
- Quick to recover when injured and is used extensively on athletic fields and golf courses.
- Does well in most soils, and is highly drought resistant.
- Thrives in hot or cold climates, at high or low altitudes.
- Requires less fertilizer to keep it healthy.
- Can be mowed down to ½ inch when planted in sunlight.
- One pound of seed will plant 2,000 sq. ft. of new lawn area at a cost of only ⅓¢ per square foot.
- BenSun (A-34) Lawngrass Seed carries this guarantee: "If you are not satisfied with the results obtained from this seed, return the empty box with proof of purchase within 6 months to Warren's Turf Nursery, Inc. You will be supplied with more seed or your money will be refunded, your choice".

Available as Sod, Sod Plugs and Seed!

Fr. Pat Peyton here Sunday

LIVERMORE— Father Patrick Peyton will appear as the principal speaker at Mary's Hour to be held on Sunday from 3 to 4 p m. at the Livermore Stadium — Robertson Park at South Livermore and Robertson Road in Livermore.

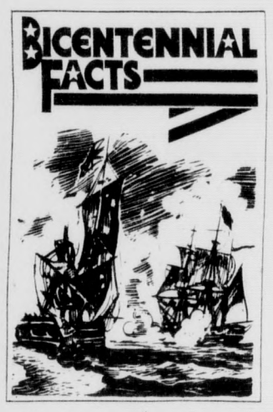
Father Peyton's Family Theater, which he organized in 1947, has carried his radio shows to virtually every corner of the world. His famous slogan, "The Family that Prays Together...Stays Together," is recognized by wall street brokers and housewives alike. His seasonal television shows produced by his Hollywood based Family Theater Productions have been seen over 13,800 times on stations throughout the world, and have won numerous awards for their quality.

His Prayer Crusades, however, have probably afforded him his greatest success. At Golden Gate Park in San Francisco in 1961, his prayer rally attracted 500,000 people, the largest gathering in the history of that city. He has taken his Family Rosary Crusades to thirty - seven countries on five continents.

The Mary's Hour program is a bicentennial celebration honoring Our Lady, Queen of the Rosary, and will include hymns, the Rosary, Guest Speaker Father Peyton, and will close with Benedication of the Blessed Sacrament. In addition, there will be a living Rosary on the field made up of First Communicants from St.Michael's School and CCD Program.

New Chapter

A new chapter for Divorced persons, Widows and Widowers is now being formed. For more information call Bob Arieta, 939-1356.



Privateer comes from the phrase "private man-of-war" A privateer was a privately-owned, armed vessel commissioned by a government under a letter of marque to carry on operations of war. Privateering's incentive of captured loot had more appeal for colonists during the Revolution than service in the regular navy. The World Almanac notes that privateers destroyed a greater number of British ships, 600, than the Continental navy, 196, but they drained off resources of manpower and materials that prevented the development of the regular American Navy.

Adventists

LIVERMORE— Saturday's sermon at the Seventh - day Adventist church will be on "Christian Perfection " Talking on the subject will be Pastor Robert Becker He asks the question: "Is this perfection a goal to be realized or merely something to think about?" Christ said in Matt. 5:48, "Be ye therefore perfect, even as your Father which is in heaven is perfect."

Sabbath school classes convene at 9:30 a.m. following a program. The adult study this week is concerned with the scripture and how God speaks to us through it. The lesson shows the revelation that God makes of Himself through scripture.

On a different note; the Livermore Valley Seventh - day Adventist school located at 2828 Marina Ave. is now taking applications for new students for the fall year. Interested parents may call 447-6269 or 447-6959.

Witnesses greet Russell Weaver

DUBLIN— The Dublin and Pleasanton congregations of Jehovah's Witnesses this week welcome traveling overseer Russell I. Weaver, whose visit is for the purpose of increasing home Bible studies in the community. Mr Russell will be making house - to - house visits for that purpose.

church news

What's a Cursillo?

, PLEASANTON— The Rev. Robert Vogt of the United Presbyterian Community Church has entitled this Sunday's sermon, "What is a Cursillo? How do I get to Make one?" This is one of the series of worship experiences and information sessions planned by the church. A question and answer period will be held in the social hall after the services.

Pre-School children are to attend the first part of their services in the Sanctuary before being transportated to the Mirador site for classes at both the 9:30 and 11 o'clock times.

St. Clare's steps into the future

PLEASANTON— St. Clare's Episcopal Church will discuss the future of their church on Sunday, May 16, when they take their "first step into the future" at a potluck supper at 6 p.m., at their present meeting location, 339 Rose Ave. A discussion of land acquisition will be held at this time.

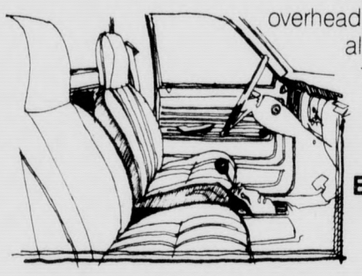
St. Clare's feels it has reached a period in its life where it must act to meet the demands of a growing Christian community. They are endeavoring to continue the warmth and Christian fellowship of its members which extend to Dublin, San Ramon and Pleasanton areas. For information regarding the dinner, you may call 443-1145.

There will be a service of Holy Communion from the Book of Common Prayer at 8 a.m on Sunday. At the 10 a.m. family service, Holy Eucharist will be celebrated.

SMALL TRUCKS WITH BIG IDEAS.

Toyota trucks are built with the same quality and craftsmanship that go into all Toyotas, including our super-rugged off road Toyota Land Cruiser. And that makes them among the most durable and dependable trucks on the road. Here are a few reasons why.

Big on power and performance. Toyota's mighty, yet economical 2.2 litre overhead cam engine is the biggest piston engine of all the mini-trucks. It'll take you from 0 to 55 in 11.8 seconds. And it comes with your choice of rugged 4-speed, 3-speed automatic or 5-speed overdrive transmissions.

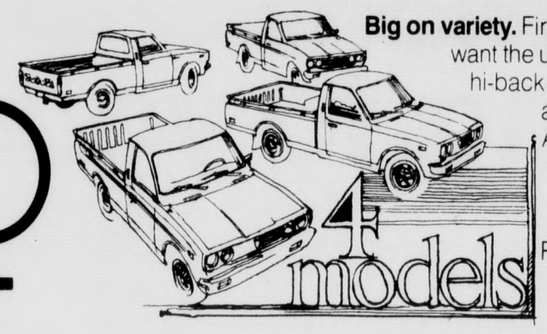


Big on comfort. Roomy, man-sized cab with more leg room, shoulder room and head room than our leading competitor.

Big on economy. 29 mpg highway, 19 mpg city in 1976 EPA test with 5-speed overdrive transmission. (These EPA results are estimates. The actual mileage you get will vary, depending on your driving habits and your truck's condition and equipment.)

29 MPG HIWAY 19 CITY

YOU ASKED FOR IT.



Big on variety. First, our SR-5 Sport Trucks, for people who want the ultimate. 5-speed overdrive transmission, hi-back front bucket seats, wall-to-wall carpeting and racy body stripes all come standard. Available with either a roomy 6-foot bed or our extra long 7-foot bed, big enough to haul just about anything.
Or if you don't want the frills choose our Regular Long Bed, with optional 5-speed overdrive transmission. Or our Regular 4-speed for the absolute in economy.

A big commitment to quality. We believe we make the most rugged and dependable small trucks in the world. That's what gives us the confidence to say: If you can find a better built small truck than Toyota...buy it.

YOU GOT IT.
